

Olga Michie

Olga Michie is the Regional Coordinator with the Emergency Preparedness and Response Section of the Public Health Agency of Canada. The Emergency Preparedness and Response Section provides preparedness and response coordination for the federal health portfolio in the event of a public health emergency or disaster in Ontario or Nunavut. Prior to joining the public service in 2004, Olga Michie worked in employee assistance programs. She designed and managed national and international trauma and counselling programs and worked in responses to 9/11 in New York and SARS in Toronto.

Olga has an MA in Social and Political Thought from York University and an M.Ed in Applied Psychology from University of Toronto. She is a certified clinical counsellor and specializes in disaster mental health. Olga is member of the Ontario Association of Emergency Managers.